

Chief Steward

It is the Chief Steward's job to recruit enough volunteers to man each ring for each class and to manage those workers on the day of the show. Do not turn down workers as someone may cancel or just not show up and you will need substitutes. The Chief Steward must make up the workers schedule and make sure that each worker receives a copy of it. The Chief Steward and the Obedience Chairman should decide which of them will provide the gifts for the volunteers.

The Chief Steward should make sure that each volunteer knows their stewarding job or receives instruction from the Chief Steward or from the Judge. Below you will find descriptions of each stewarding job copied from the AKC website. Make sure that you are familiar with any rule changes that have been made.
